

LaGaia goes from strength to strength—constantly improving both formulas and packaging design.

Juicy Relaunch

DEVOTED TO ultra-hydration and balancing pH, LaGaia's new Hydraceutical range integrates new manufacturing and scientific research on the positive effect of fragrance-free active oxidants, balanced pH and extreme hydration to create a beautifully simple range of skincare products with world-class anti-ageing results. Developed by Dr Jean D. Laing with leading scientists for the harsh conditions of the Australian climate, polluted city life and prematurely aged skin, the range contains powerful doses of anti-oxidants, peptides and vitamins to repair existing damage and strengthen the skin's immune system. LaGaia comes in elegant airless bottles to minimise the preservatives required. Prescriptive kits for pre and post treatments offers and sample sachet prescriptive packs maximise homeware retail options. With no perfumes, sulphates, parabens, nanoparticles or petrochemicals, LaGaia Hydraceutical products are safe and gentle for sensitive skins while delivering on their anti-ageing promise. Hydraceutical replaces the LaGaia Naturaceutical range. LAGAIA.COM.AU, 1300 843 848

Nvey Eco incorporates products for six different skin conditions.

Australian Makeup Brand Weighs in on Skincare

Following in the footsteps of their outstanding Australian made and certified organic makeup range, Nvey Eco has launched a completely chemical-free skincare range encompassing six skin type lines: Intensif (for age concerns), Delicat (sensitive skin), Riche (dry skin), Purete (oily skin), Blanc (whitening) and Forte (all skin types). Despite the high performance nature of the products, all the formulas and ingredients adhere to the ethos and production values of the green brand and have been granted organic certification by international organic cosmetics regulatory bodies that have verified and monitored the performance and integrity of their ingredients. With an avant-garde vision of formulating a skincare range that is in step with both the environment and with consumer demands for an effective but green experience, Nvey Eco has developed the concept of ecological optimum bioavailability—a treatment system based on the effective delivery of natural actives.

NVEYECOCOSMETICS.COM, 613 9654 2037

NEW YORK NOUS

Since 1999, New York brand Luzern Laboratories have formulated with pharmaceutical-grade ingredients and ultra-high levels of peptides, antioxidants and polyphenols processed without synthetics, preservatives or chemicals. Luzern products contain an average of four to six times more bio-active ingredients than other brands. The Bio-Swiss certified extracts come from plants that are grown in harsh Alpine conditions and work synergistically to optimise three key cellular elements; energy, moisture and nutrients. Australian

Payot distributors, Clive and Rita Smith, are the Australian agents for Luzern Laboratories. LUZERNLABS.COM, 1300 367 969

The Luzern Laboratories cosmeceutical brand contains highly concentrated bio-active ingredients.